Equipment

You will share a canoe or a rafted canoe dependant on the conditions and abilities of those partaking. A paddle & buoyancy aid will be provided.

If you are providing your own equipment, we will check the integrity before your use on the tour. It must be clean and dry and inspected to ensure there is no risk to the biosecurity of Derwentwater.

Appropriate clothing for the conditions must be worn by you

Description

Derwentwater for the inquisitive.

For those with a little more skill and stamina your guided tour will show you all that Derwentwater has to offer. Make sure you bring your picnic and hopefully you will make it to an island and along the way you will have time to see the sites and secluded bays with the varied plant and wild life, learn a little of the history and spot some of the open air sculptures. See the beautify scenery from a new perspective with photo opportunities for the magnificent Borrowdale valley with the Jaws of Borrowdale and in the background the Scar Fell range. All this and a good dollop of fun.

Environment

Derwentwater is a large piece of open water which has the feel of a wild area but is generally sheltered by the surrounding mountains. Our qualified guides will make it accesible to all. The route of the tour is flexible to take into account the conditions on the day. There is always the back up of our powered safety craft.
